

THE ALCHEMICAL HEART: WRITING INTO THE SACRED

An original workshop

with award-winning poet and activist,
Dora E. McQuaid

In this five-hour workshop, Dora combines sacred and contemporary poetry and contemplative readings with experiential meditations and writing exercises to help you explore your connection to the Divine and offers exercises designed to deepen and sustain that connection on a daily basis. Our exploration and writings will assist you in exploring the questions deep within your heart, and, more importantly, will support you in listening to the answers, creating space for the truths leading you forward to the life that wants to live through you.
